Jakub Tucholski - Guitar | Ukulele

I grew up in Poland and moved to London in July 2007 to pursue my love and passion for music. After completing my degree at London College of Music, I landed my first teaching job with Music House for Children in 2011.

As a musician, I've toured the UK and Europe with different bands, played a sold out Shepherds Bush Empire, recorded in reputable studios around the UK and even had a chance to play on Freddy Mercury's piano. When not teaching or performing, I compose film music and work on other creative projects. Music has always been my passion, and sharing the knowledge and experience I have acquired over the years brings me a lot of fulfillment and joy. My students have always excelled in exams with only merits and distinctions.
